PFAUDLER GLASS ENAMELED STEEL TANKS and APPARATUS

Just to show you what we have accomplished during recent years in the production of one-piece and sectional Glass Enameled Steel Tanks, Kettles, Mixing Tanks, Stills and other types, we reproduce the above photograph taken at our Rochester plant—the largest plant of its kind in the world.

These sturdily built steel tanks are lined with Glass Enamels of the utmost resistivity to corrosion and of exceptional durability.

In the manufacture and handling of Beverages of all kinds, Fruits, Syrups, Oils, Prepared Foods, Pharmaceutical and Heavy Chemicals and other products, these sanitary, non-contaminating tanks provide ideal conditions.

We have helped to improve many products. May we help to improve yours?

LIST OF BREWERIES IN THE UNITED STATES

CLASSIFIED BY STATES AND TOWNS.

The marginal letters indicate the kinds of malt liquors produced, also whether maltsters or bottlers. A=ale; P=porter; W=weiss beer; L=lager beer; N=near beer; M=maltsters; B=bottlers. The letter "N" as used in this connection designates those brewers who also manufacture low-alcoholic or non-alcoholic cereal beverages commonly known as near beer.

This Hand-Book is issued only as a supplement to The Western Brewer, January, 1918, and cannot be obtained except in connection with a subscription to that journal at $5.00 a year.

"THE REASON WHY"

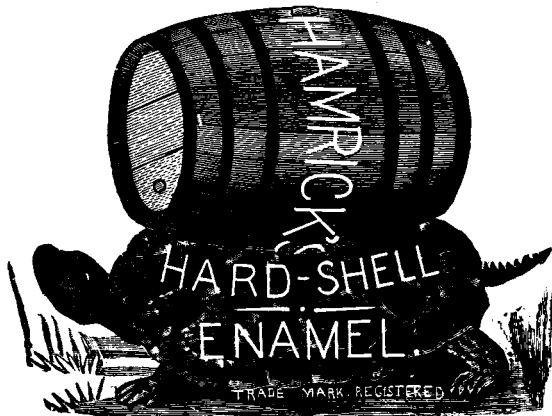

So many of the prominent Brewers of the country are using

"HAMRICK'S

HARD SHELL

ENAMEL"

in preference to varnish for the inside of fermenting tubs, storage vats, chip casks, mash tubs, hop jacks and beer, ale and porter packages.

... IT IS ...

"Odorless, Tasteless and Insoluble"

"NO RISK OF EXPLOSION"

"Will Last Years Without Renewing"

It is more easily applied than varnish. Will remain hard and firm, while varnish softens and dissolves. Does not require renewing until after years of service, and then only when worn down by friction. Is more easily cleaned than varnish. Saves money and labor. Is no longer an experiment. In use over twenty-five years.

A LONG LIST OF BREWERS RECOMMEND IT

Recommended as a Lining for Steel Tub, Casks and Vats.
